Born in Mumbai to a designer mother and director/producer father, Dinesh Ramsay grew up in the Bollywood starlight. He started off in 1998 helping his mom Mrs. Kavita Ramsay, not realizing that in doing so he started enjoying the work so much that he was asked to comment on each and every ladies outfits tried by his mom's clients.

Being the only man around, the ladies enjoyed hearing what Dinesh thought about the designs. Slowly Dinesh tried his hands on designing by himself and before he knew it, he had become a designer in his own right after studying fashion at the Clares Fashion College in Mumbai.

Overtime, Dinesh has become a sought after designer in international markets. He was assigned to design the awards dress for the wife of the Oscar winner Mychael Danna

As seen in Asian Bride

A glowing, ornate lantern hangs in the center of the frame. The lantern is made of a dark, perforated metal, possibly copper or brass, and is illuminated from within, casting a warm, golden light. It has a hexagonal body with a domed top and a pointed bottom. The background is a wall covered in intricate, golden Islamic geometric patterns, including interlocking lines and floral motifs. The overall scene is rich in detail and color, with a strong emphasis on light and shadow.

Fashion
Innovations
 BY RUBINA BAJWA

Don't start shopping without checking out Rubina's six top tips to finding the perfect outfit

Innovations are the creators of some of the most exquisite designs for women, men and children as well as wedding invitation boxes, cards and Haar Shingaar items. Offering a personalised and customised array of celebrity outfits, owner and design Rubina Bajwa manages to fuse grand charm with modern silhouettes whilst still remaining quirky.

In an interview with Rubina she told us: "I do not design with commercial considerations, international trends or competitors in mind. There is nothing that I enjoy more than exquisite couture. Designing is my passion and I worship my commitments, often finishing an outfit long before the deadline."

Rubina is now celebrating her tenth year in the fashion industry with Innovations, and the expertise she's gained over the years certainly shows in the quality gowns she produces and the exceptional customer service Innovations provides.

"As a team we stay connected to our clients throughout the whole process." Rubina said, "we like to keep our clients updated and share pics with them throughout. It's almost like having your outfit designed just next door."

We asked Rubina for her top tips when it comes to shopping for that special outfit, here's the advice she gave us:

1) TRY NOT TO BE TOO VAGUE

Try to be specific about what you want, you should try not to have too many ideas as you'll still be confused at the end of the day, wondering which item you should buy. I would recommend having a collection of customised pieces, which we can design as per your ideas to match your occasions.

2) DON'T START TOO EARLY

Don't go dress shopping more than 12 months before your big day, to avoid falling in love with an outfit before you're ready to buy. Some brides miss their chance and then panic when they can't find something that matched what they saw six months beforehand. Shop when you're ready to buy and don't hesitate when you find that dream outfit.

3) DON'T SHOP TOO MUCH

The more choice you have, the harder it's going to be to find the right one. Sometimes when you know, you know. You could easily select the best one from a few outfits, but when you're looking at 100+ dresses you might be left struggling to make a decision.

4) DON'T COMPROMISE ON QUALITY

Don't be swayed by steep discounts. Although tempting, you are compromising the quality of your special outfit and your big day should not be based on bargains. We offer you the perfect balance of quality as well as keeping your pocket happy.

5) KEEP IT SIMPLE

Don't bring an entourage shopping with you. Having 10 different opinions makes it much harder to make a decision, and when you have 10 different ideas trying to be discussed at the same time, it can be quite overwhelming. One close reliable companion is enough for honest advice.

6) CHECK THE LATEST TRENDS

Have an idea about what's on trend at the moment so that you know what to expect when you go shopping. For example, this season is all about bright pinks, luscious peaches, blush accents and summery pastels. Basically all the girly colours in floaty fabrics and unique flairs.

Diagold Unveils its Popsicle Collection

Diagold unveils the essence of the season with its “Popsicle Collection”. The assortment consists of a wide range of jewellery pieces from hand cuffs to earrings and rings. The happiness of a bright sunny day or even the joy of seeing the flowers bloom in a style that is modern yet draws inspiration from traditional Indian crafts.

Striking a perfect balance between the two, the designs are engraved with stylish and colourful stones while the diamonds are cut in trendy shapes and affixed on yellow and white gold metal base.

The collection indeed is very much versatival and can be worn at any occasion and on any outfit.

“This new collection is vibrant, easy to wear and lively. Contemporary jewellery is more about ideas than the flaunting of wealth. Designs are unique, delicate and well crafted to bring in that classy gaze on the wearer matching with the season’s most tantalizing trend”, says Ms. Varda Goenka, Owner & Designer, Diagold Jewels.

In keeping with this trend, the Jordan Tourism board recently held a mega wedding planners FAM to Jordan from India. The participants were from prominent wedding planning companies from Delhi, Mumbai, Ahmedabad and many more.

The group traveled from Amman to Dead sea, Petra, Jerash, Ma'in hot springs and Aqaba to scout potential locations and venues of Jordan for holding Indian destination weddings, said Ashit Taneja, country manager, Jordan tourism board office in India.

The Many Facets of the Jewel that is Jaipur

Rajasthan... the land of sand dunes, gilded palaces and brilliant swirls of color.... At the heart of this pristine Northern desert state rests the capital city of Jaipur, sparkling like a glittering jewel, one that has attracted the attention of visitor and conqueror alike, for centuries. Known for its humbling hospitality, The 'Pink City', as it fondly called, played host to the Prince of Wales in 1876, with an awe inspiring gesture, as the then Maharaja ordered all city buildings to be painted pink (the traditional color symbolizing a harmonious welcome) in welcome of the ruling royals.

A modern-day treasure trove, Jaipur has evolved into a well-rounded destination that offers a symphonic mix of culture, an exemplary sampling of architectural genius and distinctive gems that call alluringly to the luxury traveler. Nestled in the cradle of the Aravalis, Reminiscent of a 16th century Mughal palace, the inspired structure that Fairmont Jaipur calls home, shines through as one such gem complete with grand wooden doorways, frangipani-scented pebbled courtyards and gilded halls, with all the comforts to cater to the luxury aficionado.

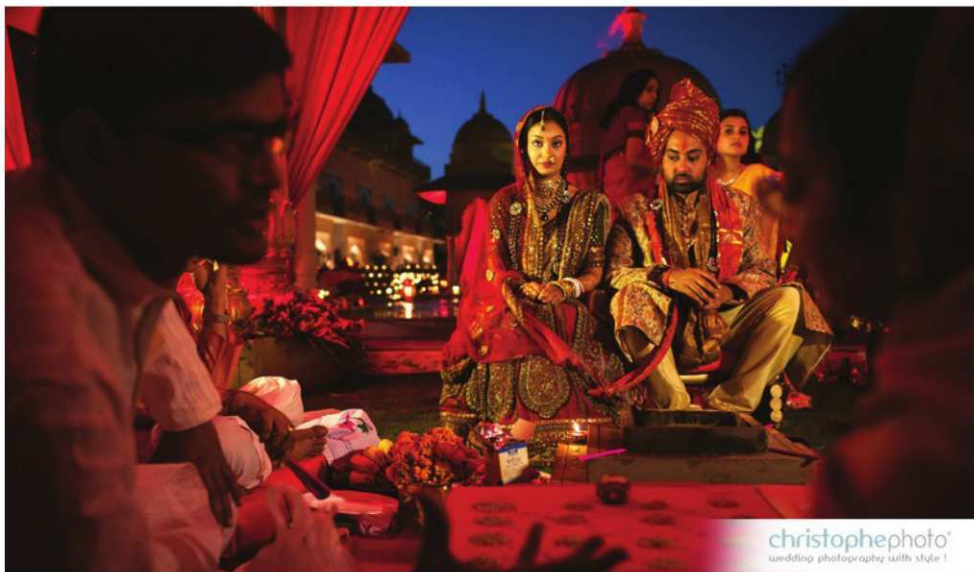

WEDDINGS

Fairmont Jaipur is where “happily-ever-after” begins in grand style. From the lush central ‘Charbagh’ and a majestic staircase outside The Grand Ballroom, brides-to-be have a wealth of elegant options for their special day, celebrate your momentous day at the Wedding palace in town. Whether your style is softly romantic, trend-setting modern or show-stopping elegance, Fairmont is the premier choice.

MEETINGS

Converging the best of modern day technology with the opulence and sheer magnificence of traditional royal courts, the convention space at Fairmont Jaipur stands proud at an enviable 60,000 sq ft. Exclusively dedicated to conferences, conventions, festivals, weddings and other celebrations this space is a delightful mix of the old and the new. The large entrance, a grand driveway, a choice of eight venues for different sorts of events and a team that is at your beck and call to make your event the grandest success, make the Fairmont Jaipur stand out among the others. Each of the seven meeting rooms and the Grand Ballroom are statements in style and elegance with shimmering chandeliers, rich gold infused murals and frescos, and delicate mirror work on the walls reminiscent of the famous Sheesh Mahal of Amber Fort. Add to this a host of state-of-the-art facilities such as web-casting, internet connectivity and video conferencing, break-out areas and a team of chefs dedicated to culinary excellence in a city that is a fascinating testament to the beauty of Rajasthan, and you have an event that is a winner from the word go.

Avi & Sulekh - Basking in abundant natural light thanks to large windows overlooking the lush Saheliyon ki Baadi (lawns and gazebos), these venues are ideal for smaller meetings or get together, and can accommodate up to 150 people each.

Architectural Masterpieces

In the words of Jenna Newton, 'If you do something that has never been done you will collect treasures that have never been found' – the ideal way to lead, as you leave your worries in the hands of the masterful concierge at Fairmont Jaipur. Explore the bastions of the fabled Amber Fort and the Jal Mahal, two of the city's most treasured historic jewels. Ride atop a decorated elephant festooned with colorful markings and other ornaments, swaying languorously up the ancient stone path, leading to the turrets of the ancient fortress, while listening to the mesmerizing soliloquy of the Mahout (the elephant rider). The indomitable 16th-century structure is an artistic blend of Hindu and Rajput architecture. Witness its ornamented halls and sumptuous Sheesh Mahal (the palace of mirrors) built as the sleeping chambers for the Rajput queens of yore, who were not permitted to sleep out in the open, its walls and ceiling are covered in painstakingly detailed frescos highlighted by hand-cut flowers in mirrored glass. As the royal consorts retired for the evening, light from a profusion of candles danced off the surfaces recreating the dreamy illusion of a starry sky.

From the higher terraces one can, view the legendary Jal Mahal. Currently inaccessible to visitors, this 18th-century, wonderfully restored pleasure palace, built in the middle of the Man Sagar lake, served as a retreat for the royal entourage during hunting excursions or simply to enjoy the advent of the monsoon season, or so it is believed. While spanning four levels beneath the emerald green surface of the water, onlookers only view a single tiered edifice sprawled languorously at the heart of the man made reservoir.

Elegance to Elephants: Lifestyles in Jaipur

Rather than partake in a standard tour of the City Palace have the concierge at Fairmont Jaipur pulls out all the stops to arrange for an exclusive private dinner at the venue. As you approach the Palace complex, note the exquisite fusion of Rajput, Mughal and European architectural styles. Maharaja Sawai Jai Singh II built the palace between 1729 and 1732, entrusting its design to chief architect Vidyadhar Bhattacharya, who designed it in accordance with ancient Hindu texts. Pass through the ornate gates in a procession of horses, elephants and musicians. After viewing the sumptuous courtyards and extensive museum collections, visitors find themselves in the exclusive chambers of the current Maharaja of Jaipur to enjoy a royal feast in a setting that is complete with the enchanting notes from a symphony of sitars and tablas both instruments used in Indian classical music.

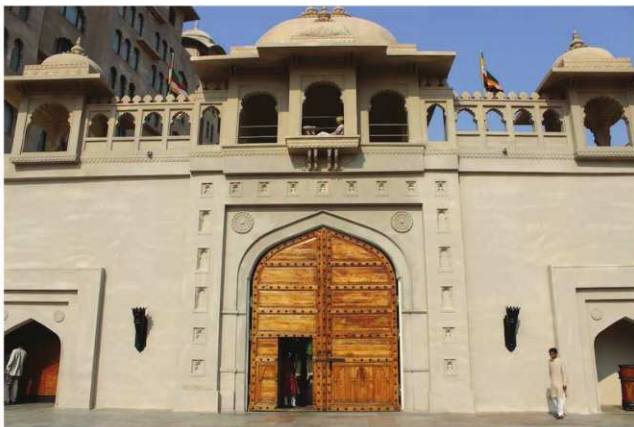

After such royal indulgences take a plunge and explore the contrasting, yet heartwarming, ways of rural life with a day-long trip to Rusirani Village. With no electricity or running water, the inhabitants have maintained their centuries-old Rajasthani way of life. Bounce dreamily along unpaved roads on your way to the village, taking in unexpected vistas, such as lakes and inviting shady clusters of Kikar trees that dot the arid desert landscape. The Rusirani natives greet visitors warmly, allowing you to lend a hand in making chapattis (a round hand patted Indian bread cooked over an open fire) for lunch, teaching traditional songs and dances, and offering to partake from a hookah (a handmade communal water pipe) flavored with homemade tobacco. Visit their local market showcasing handmade products and unique artwork. And when you bid farewell at the end of the day, you'll return with unforgettable memories of life in provincial India.

If you've ever wondered what a day in the life of an elephant is like, try a hands-on Elefun excursion. Upon arrival at the sanctuary, you're introduced to the domesticated elephant you'll care for during the course of your visit. Stand still as your new acquaintance uses a trunk to greet you. You'll learn to communicate with these timid beasts and feed them bananas, sugarcane and oversized chapatti's. Laughter abounds as you decorate your moving canvas with safe, vibrant watercolors, before taking a dip together in a nearby lake. Experience the power and grace of your gentle giant during a bareback elephant ride through the emerald-green jungle environs.

Brilliant Bazaars

When it comes to shopping, there are plenty of modern boutiques and other world standard apparel & home-ware brands. However one should take the time and explore the city's medieval-style bazaars that evoke the aura of days gone by, amidst the hustle-bustle of vendors selling their wares, when the ruling Mughals enticed artisans from across the globe to settle in Jaipur. The celebrated Johari Bazaar (market of the jewelers) in the Old City contains more than 50 market stalls showcasing an un-ending variety of near-extinct handiwork. You'll find yourself moving in rhythm with the city's infectiously vivacious pulse as you jostle among the crowds and bargain with retailers for Jaipur's signature glittering gems, carved marble collectables and local Bagru fabrics. A short walk further brings you to the smaller Bapu Bazaar where you traditional can choose a pair of the embroidered, pointy-toed shoes known for Indian footwear.

If you don't want to battle the crowds, arrive early and savor your kachori while watching the city come to life. At the end of the day, toast the mesmerizing ruby-red sunset with champagne from Fairmont Jaipur's rooftop restaurant, Aasma while gazing at the mountains against the setting sun. After having your fill of the surroundings, head back inside for dinner at Zarin (meaning 'gold' in Persian) - the Indo Persian fine-dine restaurant. The intricately carved golden ceilings tower above luxurious Teakwood tables set with fine crystal, silver and brass tableware providing the ideal setting for the decadent handcrafted menu on offer by Executive Chef Manpreet Singh. Relish the mahi zameen doz (freshly caught fish marinated in aromatic Persian spices and gently grilled then baked), or indulge in the nadru ke gullar (spiced, stuffed lotus-stem dumplings). For a truly memorable experience, reserve a seat at the emperor's table flanking the center of the room to savor a seven-course meal of authentic dishes once served to the Mughal monarchs.
